

How to use this form

- Use this form to file a retaliation complaint in BC for yourself or another person.
- This form has 11 steps.
  - Answer the questions on the form or use extra pages.
  - You can add up to 5 pages to Step 3 if the form does not have enough space.
- Print clearly. Use a black or blue pen.
- Do not attach evidence about your complaint. (There is one exception in Step 8). The Tribunal will tell you when you need to submit evidence to support your complaint.
- Keep a copy of your complaint form and all of your documents.
- If you are filing the complaint for another person, you must also file a Form 1.2 – Authorization (unless you are their lawyer or legal advocate). Get the Form 1.2 on the Tribunal website

1-year time limit to make complaint

- Submit this form within 1 year of the retaliation, if possible.
- If you file late, you can ask the Tribunal to accept your complaint when you fill out this form.

Step 1 – Parties

Step 1, Part B Respondent contact information

Important information about Respondents:

- 1. The Respondent is the person or organization you say retaliated against you. Usually, there is only one.
- 2. Usually the Respondent is an organization such as: corporate employer or landlord, government body, service provider, business or union. Organizations are usually responsible for their employees' actions. Make the organization Respondent #1.
- 3. An individual can be a Respondent. Only name the person who you say retaliated against you. For example, you can name the person who made a decision that you think is retaliation. Do not name the person who only told you about the decision.

Email: Email is fastest. If possible, give an email address where we can send your complaint. Choose someone that you think has authority to respond to your complaint. For example, someone in the human resources or legal department.

Name of Respondent #1:

Relationship to you: (example: your employer, landlord, government body)

Step 2 – Your Role in a Complaint

Step 2 Retaliation about a complaint

Information: The Human Rights Code forbids retaliation. It says that no one can retaliate against you for your role:

- in a complaint to the BC Human Rights Tribunal, or
- in an inquiry by the Office of the Human Rights Commissioner

1. Is the retaliation about: (check one)

- A complaint that someone filed with the BC Human Rights Tribunal – answer question 2
- A complaint that someone might file with the BC Human Rights Tribunal – answer question 3
- An inquiry by the Office of the Human Rights Commissioner – answer question 4

2. If the retaliation is about a complaint that someone filed, answer these questions:

2A. What is the complaint name and case number?

2B. When was the complaint filed?

2C. What is your role in the complaint? (Check one.)

- I made the complaint
- I was named in the complaint
- I gave evidence in the complaint
- I helped with the complaint – answer question 2D

2D. If you helped with the complaint, how did you help?

2E. How did the Respondent(s) know about your role? Example:

“The Tribunal sent the complaint to the Respondents.”

Retaliation Complaint

Step 2 – Your Role in a Complaint

3. If the retaliation was about a complaint that someone might file, answer these questions:
	3A. What was your role? <input type="checkbox"/> The Respondent(s) thought that I might make a complaint <input type="checkbox"/> The Respondent(s) thought that I might be named in a complaint <input type="checkbox"/> The Respondents thought that I might give evidence or help in some other way with another person’s complaint
	3B. Why did the Respondent(s) think this? Example: “I told my boss it was discrimination when I didn’t get the promotion. So my boss and employer knew I might file a complaint.”
4. If the retaliation was about an inquiry by the Office of the Human Rights Commissioner, answer these questions:
	4A. What is the Commissioner’s inquiry about?
	4B. What is your role in the inquiry? (Check one.) <input type="checkbox"/> I took part <input type="checkbox"/> I might take part
	4C. How did you take part? How might you take part?
	4D. How did each Respondent know you took part or might take part? Example: “I told the Respondent I had evidence for the inquiry.”

Retaliation Complaint

Step 4 – Time Limit

Step 4, Part A Is the complaint filed in time?

There is a 1-year time limit for filing a retaliation complaint. Answer these questions:

1. What is the date of the most recent conduct that you listed as retaliation?

Respondent #1: _____ Respondent #2: _____
(yyyy mm dd) (yyyy mm dd)

2. Did the most recent conduct happen in the last year?

Respondent #1  yes  no Respondent #2  yes  no

3. Did all of the conduct happen in the last year?

yes – go to Step 5. You filed your complaint in time.
 no – continue in Step 4.

4. Is all of the conduct related or similar?

Information: You must file a complaint within one year of the last conduct if the conduct is similar or related. The legal term is “continuing contravention”.

yes –answer questions 5 and 6.
 no – skip questions 5 and 6. Go to Step 4, Part B.

5. Explain how the conduct is similar or related (a “continuing contravention”).

Example:

- “Each event is about a manager threatening me about the complaint.”

6. Explain any gaps in time.

Information: Gaps in time might mean there is no “continuing contravention”. The Tribunal will consider reasons for gaps.

Example:

- “My manager criticized me for filing the complaint. He was on leave for four months.”

If you need more space, use extra sheets (maximum 5 pages for Step 4). Mark them “Step 4”.

Retaliation Complaint

Step 4 – Time Limit

Step 4, Part B Ask Tribunal to accept late complaint

Information:

- Complete this step if any conduct happened more than 1 year ago.
- There must be a good reason to accept the late complaint. The legal term is that it must be in the “public interest”.
- There must be no real harm to anyone because of the delay in filing. The legal term is no “substantial prejudice”.

1. Reasons to accept complaint

Information: Reasons include:

- Why you filed late, and how late you filed,
- Why accepting the complaint would benefit the public.

A. Why did you file late?

Examples the Tribunal will consider:

- The Complainant has a disability that prevented them from filing on time.
- The Complainant faced trauma or a family or housing crisis that made it hard to file the complaint at the time of the events.
- The Complainant recently found evidence of discrimination.
- The delay is very short and there is some reason for filing late.

Attach any documents that support your reasons for filing late. Examples: doctor’s note, or letter from a counsellor.

B. How will accepting your complaint benefit the public?

Example: The complaint is about a situation that the Tribunal has not addressed often. A complaint seeks a remedy that would help many people.

2. Why would the delay in filing not harm anyone else?

Information: The delay means the time after the 1-year time limit.

- “The complaint is two months late. Documents and witnesses should still be available.”
- “The complaint is six months late. I know of no harm to the Respondents.”

If you need more space, use extra sheets (maximum 5 pages total for Step 4). Mark them “Step 4”.

Step 5 Other proceedings

Information: The Tribunal can defer your complaint (put it on hold) until another proceeding is finished.

Instructions: Answer these questions.

1. Do you have another proceeding about the same events?

- yes – answer question 2
- no – go to Step 6.

2. What kind of proceeding is it?

Examples: union grievance, court case, WorkSafeBC claim.

3. What stage is that proceeding at?

Examples: Has there been a hearing? When do you expect a decision?

4. Do you want the Tribunal to wait to deal with your complaint?

- yes – answer question 5
- no – go to Step 6

5. Explain why you want the Tribunal to wait to deal with your complaint.

Step 6 Remedies

Check the kinds of remedies you want and that are available under s. 37 of the Human Rights Code:

- Order to stop the retaliation
- Declaration that the conduct is retaliation
- Steps or programs to address the retaliation (examples: training, policy)
- Compensation for injury to dignity, feelings, and self-respect
- Compensation for lost wages or other expenses such as moving expenses, photocopying, costs of attending the hearing (keep receipts)
- Something specific (examples: job back, ramp): _____

Step 7 Mediation

Information:

- At a “mediation”, a trained mediator works with you and the respondent to find a solution to your complaint. Settlement is voluntary. If you can’t agree, the process continues.
- If you settle your complaint, the process is usually much faster. If you don’t settle, there are steps you must take before a hearing where you can prove your complaint. See Steps in the Process on the Tribunal website.
- Mediation is free.
- What you and the Respondent say in mediation is confidential.
- A mediator does not act for either party.
- You can bring your representative or a support person.
- You don’t have to be in the same room as a Respondent to participate in mediation. The mediator can speak to you and the Respondent separately.
- For more information see Settle a Complaint on the Tribunal website.

The Tribunal will ask the Respondent if they want to attend a mediation. If you both agree, the Tribunal will contact you to schedule a date for the mediation.

Do you want to attend a mediation?

yes  no

Step 8 Indigenous Peoples

Indigenous or Aboriginal Peoples are First Nations, Métis, or Inuit.

The Tribunal is committed to Truth and Reconciliation with Indigenous Peoples.

If you are Indigenous, a Tribunal staff person can:

- Explain the process and process options
- Talk about including Indigenous protocols or ways of resolving disputes in the process.

If you want the Tribunal to contact you, check here:

I am First Nations, Métis or Inuit. I want someone to contact me to talk about the process.

Step 9 Extra pages

More space for answers to questions in form

You may add up to 5 pages for Step 3 – Details and up to 5 pages for Step 4 – Time Limit.

- Check here if you are attaching extra pages.
Number each page you attach, write the step you are responding to, and name the Respondent that it is about.
How many extra pages are you attaching: _____

Evidence

Do not file evidence now unless an exception applies. There are 2 exceptions:

1. You can file evidence to show why you filed your complaint late. For example, a doctor’s note.
2. If your complaint is about a job ad or publication, you can attach the ad or publication.

- Check here if you are attaching evidence. One of these exceptions must apply.
How many pages of evidence are you attaching: _____

Keep your documents. The Tribunal will tell you when to you need to submit evidence to support your complaint.

Step 10 Confirm information is true and accurate

Keep a copy of your complaint form.

Check the following box:

- The information I gave is true and accurate to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Accommodation

The Tribunal wants to make sure its process is safe and accessible for everyone.

You may need us to address your needs so you can take part (The legal term is “accommodation”.) If you need an accommodation, attach a page called “Accommodation Request”.

Examples:

- “I am Deaf. I need an interpreter.”
- “I am Indigenous. I want to smudge at the hearing.”

Privacy Notice

The Tribunal collects personal information to process human rights complaints. The Tribunal may survey parties to improve its services.

The demographic information you give at the end of this form is confidential.

The Tribunal will give a copy of the rest of the form to the other parties.

The Tribunal must provide copies of complaints and responses to the Office of the Human Rights Commissioner. The Tribunal may provide the Commissioner with other records in a complaint file. The Tribunal may disclose personal information to the public as follows:

- The Tribunal publishes most decisions on its website.
- The Tribunal publishes a hearing schedule.
- Before a hearing, the public can see parts of the file. This does not include contact information. It does include:
  - The complaint,
  - The response to the complaint.
- Hearings are open to the public.
- The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act applies to the Tribunal. Someone can apply to see information in the complaint file.

You can ask the Tribunal to limit the information it makes public. You can also ask the Tribunal to order a publication ban. Use a Form 7.1 General Application to apply. For more information, see Apply to Limit Publication of Personal Information on the Tribunal website.

Other laws may restrict a party from going public with information in this complaint.

For more information, see the Complaint Process Privacy Policy.

What happens next?

The Tribunal will review your complaint. Next, it will tell you one of the following:

- The complaint form is complete and the complaint will proceed to the next step. The Tribunal will send a copy to the Respondent(s).
- The complaint form is incomplete and the Tribunal will ask you for more information by a certain date.
- The complaint is on hold until the end of another proceeding.
- The complaint cannot be accepted for filing because:
  - The complaint is not covered by the BC Human Rights Code,
  - The complaint does not set out facts that could be discrimination under the BC Human Rights Code, or
  - The complaint was filed late and the Tribunal has decided not to accept it.
